ATTRACTIONS

Vihara Avalokitesvara Graha

Vihara Avalokitesvara Graha is the largest Buddhist temple in Southeast Asia located in Tanjungpinang. Many come here to meditate and marvel at the statue which is made of brass and coated in 22 carat gold. This unique temple has a dragon fruit plantation at the front of it, which is something you don't see every day. If you are lucky, and visit in the evening, you might be blessed with a beautiful sight of orange hues in the sky too.

Vihara Ksitigarbha Bodhisattva (500 Lohan Temple)

Vihara Ksitigarbha Bodhisattva is a place of worship of Thionghoa society or Buddhist community in Tanjungpinang, commonly referred to as the 500 Lohan Temple, where a surreal setting that could very well be in Mainland China greets you. There are over 500 life-sized, (Lohan) statues – each one human-like, unique and different from the next. You may come across familiar faces here such as Tripitaka and Guan Gong.

Trikora Fishing

Just a 45 minutes ride away, Trikora is a long stretch of separate beaches numbered from one to four. The waters here are crystal clear with different shades of blue and green. The relaxing atmosphere offers city dwellers respite from their daily lives.

Banyan Tree Temple

The Banyan Tree Temple is a Chinese shrine worshipped by locals. The shrine is a new development although probably decades old and occupies an older building said to be 200 years ago. The temple structure is wrapped and held together by the roots of a banyan tree hence its name Banyan Tree temple.

Sea Gypsies

Panglong Village is the largest sea gypsy village in Bintan – sea gypsies are sea nomads who are born, live and die on the sea. At this rustic village by the river, discover the way of life of the sea gypsies as it has been for hundreds of years. You will be brought back in time – think rural villages, stilt houses on waters and salted fish being dried in the open.

Grotto Santa Maria Cave

In the south of Bintan lies Grotto Santa Maria. Here, a beautiful portrayal of the Stations of the Cross tells the story which has captured the hearts of millions around the world. It has been said that this unique religious site was built a long time ago by a Dutch priest, with newer parts of the site added by sea gypsies from Vietnam, and Catholics from East Timor. During weekends, it is filled with locals as they come here to pray.
